

Polarization

Light waves are transverse waves but travel in all sorts of direction

When we open our eyes, our eyes absorb the light rays no matter the direction they are traveling.

Polarizing lenses

act like filters to block light rays, only allows some light rays in.

